Ventilation

The Malama Security Door can be locked securely, allowing you to safely and confidently leave your prime door open day or night for cooling ventilation.

Visibility

The Malama Security Door allows for clear viewing of the outdoors and visitors with its open structured, sculpted grille.

Deadbolt Security

Combined with the high tensile strength aluminum construction, the deadbolt lock affords the best protection available. The deadbolt lock cannot be pried open by a metal or plastic insert, and even if the face plate and handle are jimmied, the concealed mechanism and main bolt remain in the locked position.

Rust Free

With extruded aluminum construction, the Malama Security Door won't rust and is ideal for marine environments.

Easy Operating

With concealed Oilite hinges and extruded aluminum construction, the Malama Security Door swings freely and easier than heavy steel security doors.
